

Web Search Engines

News Aggregator using K- Means clustering

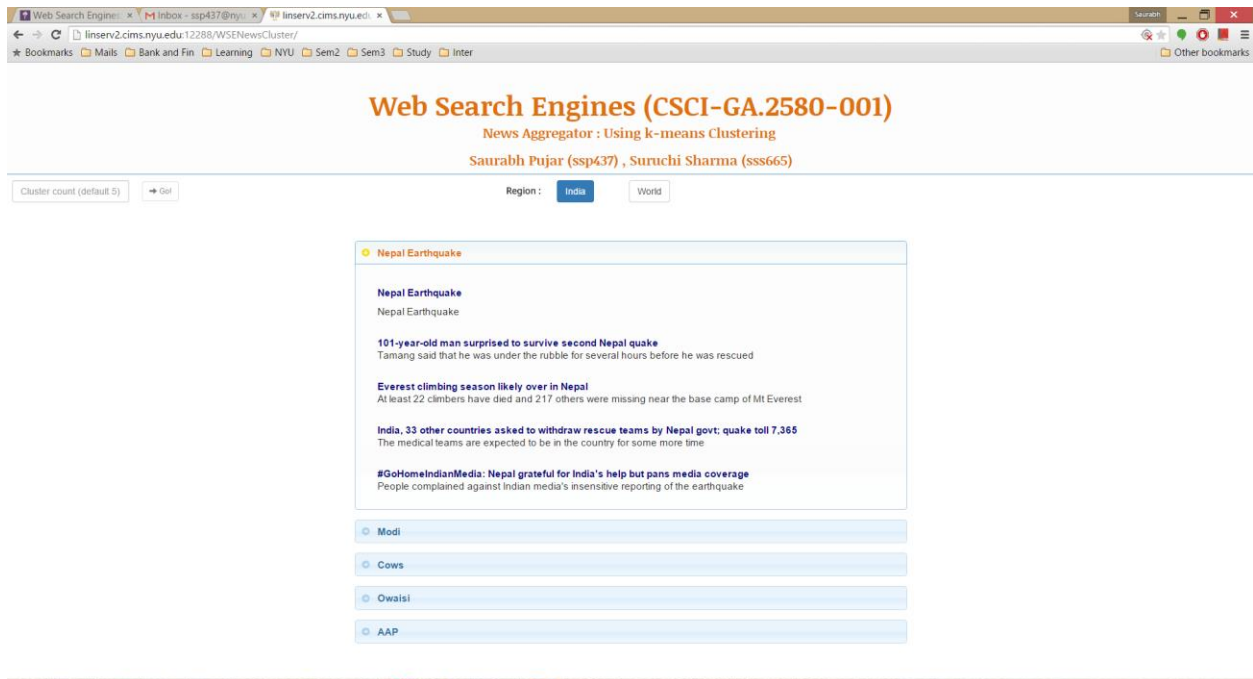

ssp437@nyu.edu

sss665@nyu.edu

1. On loading the page we are first asked permission to use location. If you block, default location is India. If you allow you will be categorized in World or India based on your location.

2. Not allowing will give default India.

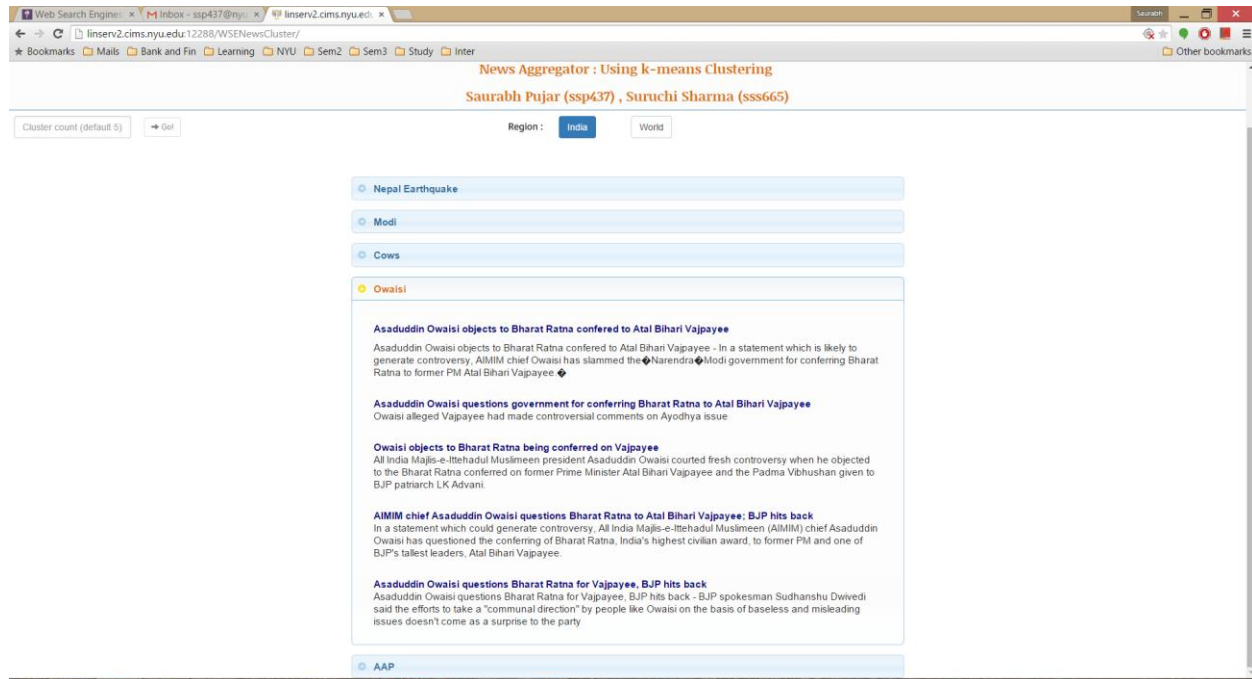

Web Search Engines

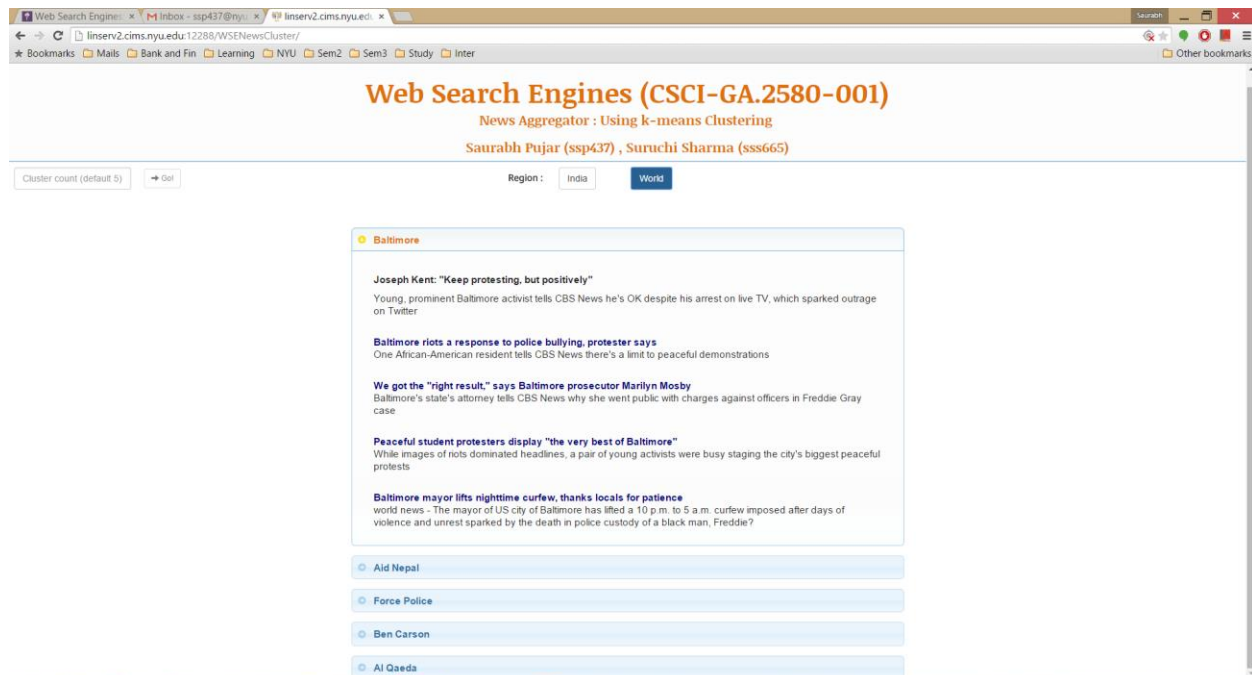

News Aggregator using K- Means clustering

ssp437@nyu.edu

sss665@nyu.edu

3. If you allow location, accessing from US you can see world news. You can also change the region on your own using the button provided.

Web Search Engines

News Aggregator using K- Means clustering

ssp437@nyu.edu

sss665@nyu.edu

Web Search Engine: x 1 Inbox - ssp437@nyu.edu: x linserv2.cims.nyu.edu: x

linserv2.cims.nyu.edu:12288/WSENewsCluster/

★ Bookmarks Mails Bank and Fin Learning NYU Sem2 Sem3 Study Inter

News Aggregator : Using k-means Clustering

Saurabh Pujar (ssp437) , Suruchi Sharma (sss665)

Cluster count (default 5) → Go!

Region : India World

- Baltimore
- Aid Nepal
- Force Police
- Ben Carson
- Al Qaeda

'Tired of prayer vigils'; California debates 20 bills aimed at police force

As last week's protests in Baltimore renewed the national debate on the use of force by police, California lawmakers have been grappling with how to address the fractured relationship between law enforcement and minority communities.

Mysterious new force emerges in Yemen to fight rebels

A shadowy new pro-government force has been deployed in the embattled Yemeni port city of Aden, according to reports Sunday, sparking speculation that ground troops from the Saudi-led coalition may have joined the battle against Houthi rebels and their allies.

NYPD Officer Brian Moore dies two days after being shot in the head

Brian Moore had been in coma after suspect known as "Hellraiser" fired shots at officer and his partner in unmarked police car.

Texas officer saved lives in shooting outside Muhammad cartoon contest, police say

Police in Texas were still checking a car for possible explosives early Monday and authorities reportedly were searching the Phoenix home of the two suspects who were killed in an attack on an art exhibit that inflamed radical Muslims.

Israeli Ethiopian protest against racism turns violent

Several thousand people from Israel's Jewish Ethiopian minority protested in Tel Aviv against racism and police brutality on Sunday, shutting down a major highway and clashing with police on horseback long into the night.

Web Search Engine: x 1 Inbox - ssp437@nyu.edu: x linserv2.cims.nyu.edu: x

linserv2.cims.nyu.edu:12288/WSENewsCluster/

★ Bookmarks Mails Bank and Fin Learning NYU Sem2 Sem3 Study Inter

News Aggregator : Using k-means Clustering

Saurabh Pujar (ssp437) , Suruchi Sharma (sss665)

Cluster count (default 5) → Go!

Region : India World

- Baltimore
- Aid Nepal
- Force Police
- Ben Carson
- Al Qaeda

Faced with ISIS successes across Mideast, Al Qaeda grows stronger

When Al Qaeda overran the Yemeni port city of Mukalla last month, the group's commanders immediately struck a deal to share power with the area's tribesmen. No jihadi banners were raised. Al Qaeda even issued a statement denying rumors that it had banned music at parties or men wearing shorts.

Police suspect Al Qaeda ties to death of U.S. blogger in Bangladesh

A new Al Qaeda affiliate has claimed responsibility for the killing of a Bangladeshi American blogger, although police say they believe the attack was carried out by homegrown militants who may have links to the international terrorist group.

Former CIA deputy director says US misjudged Al Qaeda's resurgence after bin Laden's death

A forthcoming book by the former deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency argues that the U.S. underestimated Al Qaeda's ability to regain its former strength following the killing of Usama bin Laden in 2011.

4. You can also change the number of clusters you can see.

Web Search Engines

News Aggregator using K- Means clustering

ssp437@nyu.edu

sss665@nyu.edu

